Ewing Irrigation Broke Ground on New Corporate Office

February 14, 2006, Phoenix, AZ—Ewing Irrigation, Golf & Industrial, broke ground on its new corporate office located at 36th Street and University Drive in Phoenix.

More than 300 employees from across the country attended the ground breaking ceremony held on the 9.1-acre lot. The proposed two-story corporate office and warehouse totaling 165,000 square feet is expected to be complete December 2008. Phoenix-based hardison/downey construction, inc. is the general contractor and the architect is David Schmitt of David L. Schmitt & Associates Architecture and Planning, Inc. out of Scottsdale.

“Our new building will be nearly six times larger than our current corporate headquarters,” said Douglas York, President of Ewing. “Over the last 12 years, our sales have inflated six-fold. We are building a new corporate office to accommodate for present and future growth.”

The building will include an exercise room, a hotel-style conference room with available theater seating, and a cafeteria, among other amenities.

When the new building is complete, Ewing will move from its current property at 3441 E. Harbour Drive in Phoenix, approximately a half-mile away from the new location, where it relocated from San Leandro, CA, in 1994.

Established in 1922, Ewing is proud to serve as your source for water management and conservation solutions.
